Coastal cleanup volunteers sought

Join us for another opportunity to give back to our coastal community!

Saturday, September 19, is International Coastal Cleanup Day, and Plantation owners are helping coordinate a cleanup

effort in partnership with the Apalachicola Riverkeeper.

The countywide cleanup will take place from 8:30–11:30 a.m., with volunteers working throughout the area – including, for the first time, tip-to-tip coverage of St. George Island. Organizing the effort within the Plantation are Scott and Tanya Downing. Supplies will be provided.

Volunteers should bring:

- Gloves
- Insect repellent
- Drinking water
- Sunscreen
- A hat
- Closed-toe shoes

Interested in helping keep our island and surrounding waterways clean? Email Tanya at tanya.downing2017@gmail.com to volunteer.

This is a great way to meet your neighbors, work alongside our staff, and help spruce up The Plantation just in time for the Annual Owners' Meeting.

Dear St. George Plantation Owners,

Summer has once again brought the energy and beauty that make St. George Plantation such a remarkable place to live, vacation, and invest. Whether you are spending the season on the island or following community updates from afar, thank you for your continued support and commitment to preserving the unique character of our Plantation.

Our staff has been focused on maintaining the high standards that owners expect. From caring for our common areas and amenities to ensuring our roads, boardwalks, and recreational facilities remain safe and welcoming, every department plays an important role in protecting the quality of life we all enjoy. As well, our security team works to continually elevate the safety and security of our private community.

I want to thank the many owners who share ideas, volunteer on committees, attend board meetings, and provide constructive feedback. Your participation strengthens our community and helps guide future improvements. We remain committed to open communication and encourage you to stay connected through FRONTSTEPS, our website, and The Plantation Post newsletter.

Quick reminder of the Annual Owners' Meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday, October 17. We are very excited to showcase the new fitness center during Owners' Weekend. Remember we are temporarily closing the fitness center on September 1 and re-opening October 11.

Every owner contributes to the legacy of this extraordinary place, and I appreciate the trust you place in our staff each day.

On behalf of the entire SGPOA team, I wish you and your family a safe, relaxing, and memorable rest of the summer. The greatness of a community is most accurately measured by the compassionate actions of its members. Thank you for being part of our wonderful community.

Warm regards,
Michael Allen

Fitness Center update and closure notice

The wait will soon be over.

We are thrilled to announce that the Board of Directors has approved a substantial upgrade to the Fitness Center! The caveat is that we have to close for six weeks to make all these great improvements.

The improvements include the following:

- $32,500 for new, modern fitness equipment
- $14,500 for expansion/construction
- $4,500 for electrical modifications to accommodate new cardio equipment location
- $14,100 for new cushioned sound reduction flooring
- $3,000 for mirrors, sound system, & finishing touches

The Infrastructure and the Recreation Committees have been working with staff for months on selecting new equipment, bidding the project out, and evaluating other needs such as flooring. We appreciate all their hard work and look forward to a newly renovated and expanded facility just in time for the Annual Owners' Meeting Weekend.

The $68,600 project is being fully funded from Reserves.

We apologize for the inconvenience of the closure but we can all look forward to the finished product – a refreshed, upgraded workout space that better serves our owners and guests. Thank you to everyone who continues to work hard to bring this project to fruition.

DO GOOD WORK.

MEASURE
IT.

Talk about it.

The Maintenance staff stays busy throughout the summer months, keeping up with mowing, landscaping and the many other tasks that help keep The Plantation looking its best. Above, staff members trim palm berry pods outside the Clubhouse. The pods can easily stick to shoes and be tracked into buildings, homes and vehicles, making their removal an important part of keeping our common areas clean and well-maintained.

In the office

As the rental season slows down, office staff shift their attention from assisting owners & guests to:

- Budget season
- Annual Owners' Meeting prep
- Architectural Review duties

Security officer Nick Etheridge uses jumper cables to start a Plantation owner's vehicle recently. The staff have been called upon to jump-start nine vehicles this last month. Most dead batteries were due to interior lights left on or were heat related. Security has also been busy this past month turning off the water at various houses with water leaks. And finally, Security temporarily housed a lost and thirsty pup without an ID tag until the owner was found.

The ArtSocial Committee is still accepting photos for the 17th Annual Photo Contest.

Grab your cameras & find that amazing “best in class” shot! Please note that all entries must be submitted by Sept. 9. Amateurs & professionals may enter.

Winners will be announced during the Annual Owners’ Meeting in October.

Awards will be given as follows:

1st Place Drone: $100

1st Place: $100

3rd Place: $50

People’s Choice: $50

The cost is $10 for one entry/$20 for up to three. Contest rules & submission form are available here.

Scammer’s email bilks community

Warning to always be aware

SURFSIDE BEACH, S.C.— The trap began with a routine ritual: the head of a family-run contracting company and a small town public-works director trading emails about when the city would cut a six-figure check for utility work.

A cybercriminal posed as a company employee and emailed the director to request an electronic transfer. Days later, the town sent $545,598 to a Utah bank account. Surfside Beach had fallen victim to a “business email compromise” scam, a swindle that cost $3 billion nationally last year, the FBI says.

Fraudsters fool people with malicious software, phishing emails or tweaked digital addresses. Once in, they can spot legitimate email threads about invoices and business matters.

In Surfside Beach, a probe is underway to determine how the breach occurred. The money is still missing. The company has yet to be paid and had to tap reserves to help cover the errant $545,000. The CEO of the company said it was the town that got scammed, so the company is owed the money. The city said the emailed payment request appeared legit.

A forensic analysis shows the town’s email accounts were not improperly accessed. The fraudster set up dummy websites and email addresses, with a domain name just one letter off from the legitimate company name. Another tacked an “s” on Surfside to create surfsidesbeach.org. Such “typosquatting” led town and company employees to communicate unwittingly with the scammer.

The trick is so subtle it passes the human eyeball test, said cybersecurity experts. The scammers set up flags on infiltrated email systems so they see when payment-related messages land. They also route legitimate emails to trash so only the fraudster’s voice gets through. When payment was about to be sent, a poser emailed asking for an electronic transfer. That day, the scammer filled out the city’s ACH form.

AI is empowering scammers by smoothing syntax and diction, polish that helps overseas crooks with poor English. Of all the anti-scam safeguards, none beats human verification. When in doubt: Call a known telephone number to ensure a request is authentic.

SGI loses 39% of all turtle nests

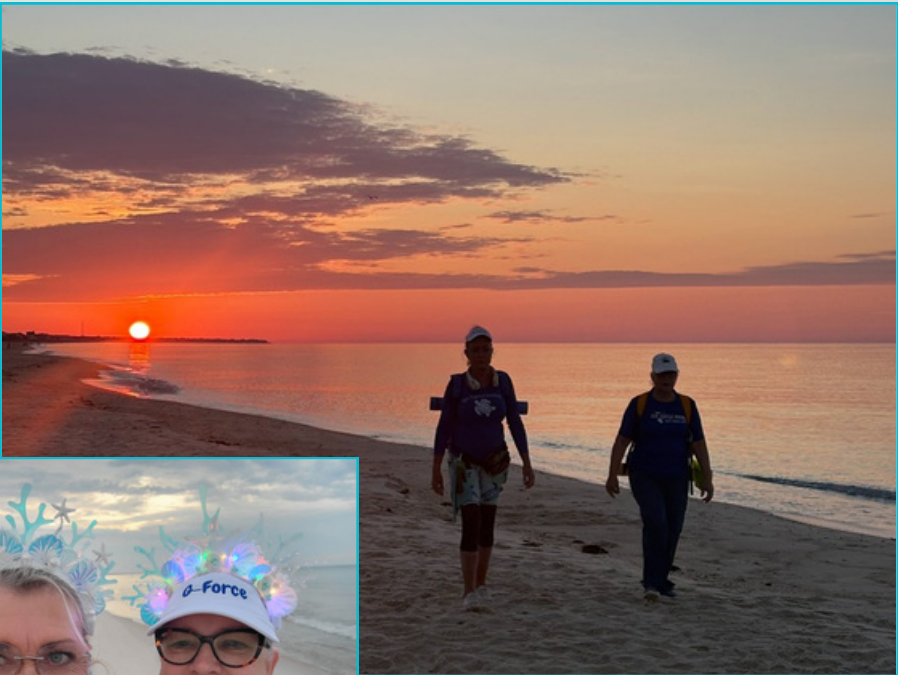

Tropical Storm Bertha brought rain and rough seas to the island July 21, including several days of double red flags. During this time, the island lost 143 sea turtle nests. Among nests located within the Plantation, Sections G and H – From 12th Street to the Magnolia Clubhouse – suffered the greatest losses.

As of last week, 40 nests have hatched.

Sea turtle season runs through Oct. 31. Please remember to pull your drapes or blinds at night to increase the chance of survival for hatchlings making their way out to sea. Also remember to Leave No Trace by removing items on the beach.

Sea turtle statistics are provided by the St. George Island Sea Turtle Patrol, Inc., operating under FWC Marine Turtle Permit MTP-143. We appreciate all they do. Follow their Facebook page here.

Roasted artichoke hearts

Source: this healthy table

Made with 5 simple ingredients.

Artichoke Hearts:

Use a can of halved, quartered, or whole artichoke hearts. If you get a can of whole artichokes, you'll need to cut them in half before using them. If you get a can of artichoke halves, you can use them as-is or cut them into quarters - depending on how large of a piece you want. Drain & dry.

Olive Oil: Toss this with the artichoke hearts, making sure each one gets a little coating. This will help the artichoke hearts get crispy. Bake at 400 for 15-20 minutes. Broil 1-2 minutes at the end for extra browning.

Parmesan: Add this near the end of the baking time so it doesn't burn. The parmesan will get crispy and add an extra flavor punch.

Salt & Pepper: Season the artichokes with just a little salt & pepper.

Optional Toppings: If you'd like to add a bit more flavor, you can mix the parmesan with 2 minced garlic cloves before sprinkling it onto the artichoke hearts.

Serving Ideas

You can serve the artichokes on their own or with a savory sauce like Basil Aioli, a sweet dipping sauce like Honey Dijon Dressing, or a creamy dip like an Avocado Sauce.

Definitely serve them with a lemon wedge to give them a little squeeze of fresh lemon juice before eating!
